Synopsis

Excerpt from Town of Arlington, Past and Present: A Narrative of Larger Events and Important Changes in the Village Precinct and Town From 1637 to 1907 The larger share of the material used in the construction of the narrative portion of this Town of Arlington Past and Present, was gathered piece-meal during the past thirty and more years of my residence in Arlington, but with no thought it would ultimately be used in this way. It has, however, proved a pleasant task, although making greater demands upon my time than was anticipated. There has been one fixed purpose in view from the outset, to magnify the name Arlington and, if possible, give to the town the place in history that is her legitimate right. The incidents named will be found true to the record, and it is hoped that they have been told in a clear and entertaining manner.
