Customer Reviews

"Good coverage of theory, authoritative, covers many major issues." Kenneth Mentor, University of North Carolina at Pembroke "It is comprehensive and well written. It is for students serious about learning the background of the law." Becky da Cruz, Armstrong Atlantic University "This text makes the field relevant to students." Robert Koulisch, Philadelphia University

Alan R. Kemp is Professor and Chair of the sociology department at Pierce College, Ft. Steilacoom, Washington, where he teaches a course on death, dying, and bereavement. He holds master's degrees in social work and divinity. He earned his doctorate at the then amalgamated colleges of St. Stephen's and St. Andrew's in Edmonton, Alberta and Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada. He has many years experience in teaching, ministry, and professional counseling. He is a licensed mental health professional. He was among the last American advisors serving on "Swift Boats" (PCFs) in Vietnam. He lives with his wife, Claudia, and a menagerie of "critters" at their cabin on property in rural western Washington state.

Great text. Easy to read and understand. Very useful information for anyone dealing with someone who is dying. Focuses on all aspects, including family and friends of dying loved ones. The cover does not look like the picture, if you are looking for the text that has a grayish color with a lady in a white dress wearing a sunhat and carrying a suitcase, this is it.
